Summary: On July 27, 2000, John Leslie, attorney for Shell Energy Service, LLC (Shell), met with Cmmr. Wood in Los Angeles, in the all-party meeting. Also present were: Bill Julian and Linda Serizawa, advisors to Cmmr. Wood; John Yurkanin, Lisa Urick, Esq., Scott Rasmussen, and Brand Cooper, for the California Power Exchange Corporation (CalPX); Mona Petrochko, of Enron, for the Alliance of Retail Marketers; Beth Fox of Southern California Edison Company, Dan Douglass, for the Western Power Trading Forum; Rebecca Schlanert, for Commonwealth Energy; Kimberly Freeman, for Sempra Energy; Bill Reed, for San Diego Gas & Electric Company (SDG&E); Les Guliasi, for Pacific Gas and Electric Company; Michael Shames, for Utility Consumers' Action Network; Steven Greenberg for Real Energy; and Scott Cauchois, for the Office of Ratepayer Advocates. Leslie stated that Shell is interested in providing retail service to electric customers in the SDG&E service territory; including possibly default service. Leslie pointed out that SDG&E is not accountable for the price of energy sold to its customers and that this is not good for customers. Leslie stated that as long as SDG&E is the default provider, this absence of accountability will continue and, as long as SDG&E maintains this entrenched role, competition will not succeed in the retail market. Leslie urged the Commission to address the issue of "default" service.

Summary: LATE FILED. On July 21, 2000, John McClendon, counsel to the City of Huntington Beach (City), met with Cmmr. Neeper in San Francisco. Ray Silver, City Administrator, and Wendy Nowak, Assistant Planner, for the City, participated in a portion of the meeting by telephone. Written materials (attached to the notice) were used. As a follow-up to the meeting, a letter (attached to the notice) was sent to Cmmr.

Neeper. The City representatives explained how the “Ventura rule,” derived from the California Supreme Court’s decision in Ventura County Waterworks District No. 5 v. Public Utilities Commission (1964) 61 Cal.2d 462, dictates that the applications must be denied. The City noted the City’s willingness to serve water to such development project as the California Coastal Commission may approve for Bolsa Chica Mesa. The City commented on how the California Environmental Quality Act and the Commission’s Final Supplemental Environmental Impact Report mandate the denial of the applications and the selection instead of the environmentally superior alternative of allowing the City to provide water service to the Bolsa Chica Mesa. The City representatives further stated that an approval of the applications will lead to more, rather than less, litigation.

Summary: On July 27, 2000, John Yurkanin, Chief Operating Officer, of the California Power Exchange Corporation (CalPX), met with Cmmr. Wood in Los Angeles, in the all-party meeting initiated by Sempra Energy. Also present were: Bill Julian and Linda Serizawa, advisors to Cmmr. Wood, and, on behalf of CalPX, Scott Rasmussen, General Counsel, and Lisa Urick, Managing Attorney. Other parties in attendance included representatives of Sempra Energy, Southern California Edison Company, Enron Corp., WPTF, ARM, Commonwealth Energy, Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the Office of Ratepayer Advocates, Utility Consumers’ Action Network (UCAN), and Shell Energy. Urick stated that CalPX prefers ALJ Minkin’s draft decision to resolve the UCAN emergency petition regarding recent price increases. Urick explained that the settlement should be considered as a complete package, with the full spectrum of bargained for benefits and trade-offs. Yurkanin emphasized the importance of use by the utilities of market tools, such as the CalPX Trading Services Block Forward Market, to assist in managing price volatility. Yurkanin stated that CalPX is committed to meeting the need of the utilities to maximize the opportunity to mitigate price spikes for consumers. Rasmussen added that the Commission should avoid reaching any final conclusions about recent market operations prior to engaging in a process that would allow consideration of the totality of the circumstances.

Summary: On July 27, 2000, John Tootle, representative of Antelope Valley Water Company (AVWC), met with Cmmr. Neep in San Francisco. On the same date, July 27, Tootle met with Jonathan Lakritz, advisor to Cmmr. Wood, Tim Sullivan, advisor to Cmmr. Duque, and Julie Halligan, advisor to Cmmr. Bilas, in three separate meetings in San Francisco. Also present were: John Forth, representative of AVWC, and Peter Fairchild, representative of the Ratepayer Representation Branch (RRB) of the Commission Water Division. At the meetings, AVWC and RRB representatives expressed their concerns with the Commission's continuance to consider adoption of the proposed decision of ALJ McVicar. AVWC and RRB representatives explained that the continuance with the AVWC application postpones any Commission's decision to adopt uncontested settlement agreements between Kern River Valley Water Company, Dominguez Water Company, and RRB.

8/1/00	A00-01-012	Covad Communications Company, for arbitration with Roseville Telephone Company.

Summary: On July 27, 2000, Charles Haas, Vice President of Operations, Western Region, of Covad Communications Company (Covad), met with Cmmr. Neep in San Francisco. Also present were: Fassil Fenikile, advisor to Cmmr. Neep; Sarah Bradley, Counsel, and Laura Izon, Counsel, of Covad. Haas stated that Covad was already collocated in Roseville Telecommunications Company's (Roseville) offices, but that service had not yet been turned up. Haas stated that Roseville's loop prices are prohibitively high and do not allow Covad to operate profitably in competition with Roseville's retail DSL offering. Izon noted that the price differential between Roseville and Pacific Bell's loop costs created a digital divide between residents of Roseville and those of the rest of California. Bradley and Haas noted that Covad is often the first entrant in a market, breaking ground for other competitors by arbitrating or litigating where others may not. Bradley and Haas pointed out that if Covad cannot enter the Roseville market, it is unlikely that any other data competitive local exchange carriers would be able to, and, therefore, the residents of Roseville would not see DSL competition. Bradley further expressed concern about the precedential value of the Roseville decision. Izon and Bradley noted that the pricing for smaller independent ILECs was a national problem and urged the Commission to take a leadership in addressing this issue.

Summary: On July 27, 2000, Les Guliasi, Manager, Regulatory Relations Department, Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), met with Cmmr. Wood in Los Angeles, at an all-party meeting. Also present were: Bill Julian and Linda Serizawa, advisors to Cmmr. Wood; Mark Huffman, attorney, for PG&E. Guliasi stated that PG&E shares the Commission's concern with respect to the high electricity prices this summer. Referring to the Utility Consumers Action Network's emergency motion, Guliasi explained that the Commission should direct its solutions at the source of the problem, the wholesale market. Guliasi stated further that the Commission should not impose a leveled payment plan on PG&E and its customers because, while designed to smooth a customer's payments over time, a levelized payment plan will not work when electricity prices are volatile and difficult, if not impossible, to predict.

Also present were: Fassil Fenikile, advisor to Cmmr. Neep; and Walt Willard, District Manager – Local Service and Access Management, and Bob Kargoll, Regulatory Director, AT&T. Referring to the joint petition for modification of D98-12-054, filed on July 26, 2000, and the petition's request that the remainder of the test of Pacific Bell's operations support systems be opened to the members of the technical advisory board, Willard stated that it was important for DS1s to be tested as part of the OSS test. Summarizing AT&T's concerns with the Price Waterhouse Coopers audit and re-audit of Pacific Bell's performance measures, Johnson also stated that it is important for competitive local exchange carriers to provide the Commission with timely comments on the audits.
